

Bladen Community College Moodle Site Policy

Usage Conditions:

The sole purpose of the Moodle eLearning platform is to deliver electronic learning. This may be in the form of resources that are available to all Staff / Students to ensure that a core entitlement is supplied to the entire Bladen Community College community.

Alternatively, curriculum/continuing education areas may offer materials that only members of a specific course will be able to access. The structure and content of these courses are developed at the discretion of the named instructor(s).

Moodle users are prohibited from composing, or submitting via attachments, any material that is, at Bladen Community College's sole discretion, unlawful, pornographic, obscene, threatening, abusive, libelous, or encourages conduct that would constitute a criminal offence. You must not create, distribute or access material that is unlawfully discriminatory, including on the grounds of age, sex, sexual orientation, race, disability or religion; that is likely to incite any form of violence or hatred; or that is likely to cause harassment, alarm or distress. Additionally, all material is subject to the provisions of copyright:

Copyright and Fair Use - <http://fairuse.stanford.edu/>
The U.S. Copyright Office - <http://www.copyright.gov/>
Digital Millennium Copyright Act - <http://www.copyright.gov/legislation/dmca.pdf>
Fair Use of Online Video - <http://www.centerforsocialmedia.org/fair-use/related-materials/codes/code-best-practices-fair-use-online-video>

The Bladen Community College Moodle website is intended for the sole and exclusive use of Bladen Community College students, faculty, and staff. The Moodle user is responsible for the use of his/her account and account information. Any use of the user's account is the sole responsibility of the user.

You are advised that your use of Moodle will be logged, and this information, together with other personal data about you contained within the system, may be used by tutors and/or facilitators to monitor your participation, progress and completion of courses.

Electronic signature: (to be added)

Do not at any time give out your username and password to anyone. If you have problems with your user credentials please contact our IT Support Team who will ask you a number of security questions before applying any changes to your user profile.

Attendance: Attendance policies follows BCC policy outlined in the College catalog and Student Handbook.

Acceptable Use: By using the Bladen Community College systems in whole or in part you are also agreeing to adhere to the College's Staff / Student Acceptable use policies and the items covered in the Bladen Community College Intranet Terms & Conditions. These documents and other contact information can be obtained from the Bladen Community College website at: <http://www.bladenc.edu>.

Privacy: Student data at the Bladen Community College is governed by FERPA (Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act). Among other things, this law enables students to suppress some or all of their directory information, such as their BCC Moodle/student email usernames and e-mail addresses. Students who do so present a unique challenge to teachers who make use of digital technology in their courses. For example, Moodle allows a variety of interactions that may reveal student names and usernames. In threaded discussions, chats, and other interactive functions, student participation may reveal possibly suppressed information.
